Neighbourhood safety

At Gentoo we take neighbourhood safety very seriously. We work in partnership with various agencies across Sunderland to prevent and minimise antisocial behaviour (ASB) and are committed to ensuring everyone feels safe within our neighbourhoods.

We have specialist staff who are experts in dealing with ASB and domestic abuse, offering appropriate support to victims and taking action against those responsible.

We work to tackle the causes of ASB which can often include mental health, alcohol/drug dependency and other vulnerability issues.

Our promise:

To help our neighbourhoods feel safe and secure by preventing and minimising ASB.

We will:

- Offer appropriate support and advice to victims and perpetrators of ASB and domestic abuse
- Take relevant action specific to any reports of ASB or domestic abuse received
- Provide you with a timely response to any reports of ASB or domestic abuse received

What is antisocial behaviour?

Gentoo define ASB as any conduct which has caused, or is likely to cause harassment, alarm, nuisance, annoyance or distress to a person in relation to that person's occupation of their home. ASB can also be conduct capable of causing housing related nuisance or annoyance to any person.

There are many different types and levels of ASB, these can include:

- Criminal activities such as drug dealing
- Domestic abuse
- Physical assault
- Threats of violence
- Stalking a person
- Criminal damage (including to property we own)
- Racial harassment and hate crime
- Alcohol and solvent abuse
- Serious disagreements between neighbours
- Neighbour nuisance (such as playing loud music and making loud noises)

Some cases of serious ASB are also illegal and these should be reported to Northumbria Police.

Our approach to ASB will depend on the situation but it will be a combination of:

Prevention and early intervention – We will intervene as soon as we are made aware of an incident or when we have concerns about the welfare and safety of individuals.

Safeguarding and support – We will consider safeguarding and vulnerability from the outset of our involvement, customising our approach; support may be provided through our specialist teams to both a victim and perpetrator where required.

Enforcement – ASB, including being a perpetrator of domestic abuse, is a breach of a tenancy agreement and we can take legal action in the most serious of cases against someone's tenancy.

Domestic abuse

Domestic abuse is any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are, or have been, intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. The abuse can include, but is not limited to:

- Psychological – Making you feel devalued and afraid, if you are lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender (LGBT) this could be threatening to 'out' you to your family
- Physical – Kicking, punching and restraining
- Sexual – Rape, making you do things you don't want to do, preventing you from practicing safe sex
- Financial – Taking your money and/or controlling your money
- Emotional – Making you feel unhappy

It also includes controlling behaviour, such as isolating you from family and friends and coercive control which includes a pattern of behaviour to frighten or humiliate you.

At Gentoo we understand that it can be very difficult in taking the first step to get help. We can support you to get help and to make sure you are not in any danger through our specialist. If you prefer we can offer you the opportunity to speak to someone of the same sex or gender.

If you are using abusive behaviour against a partner or are a perpetrator of ASB and would like to change your behaviour please contact our Safety and Support Team.
